— OYSTER — EXPERIENCE

R175 PER PERSON

Looking for something to do in Knysna whatever the weather! On our decks in summer or next to the fire in winter! Get a selection of our Coastal and Cultivated oysters with a glass of bubbly to round off the experience.

COASTAL OYSTERS:

The choice of the ancients, and a tasty choice indeed, the wild oysters we serve grow only on the coast between Cape Agulhas and the Transkei.

CULTIVATED OYSTERS:

Grown in Saldanha Bay, on intertidal racks or in rafts suspended beneath the surface of the cold, nutrient-rich Atlantic ocean waters.

OYSTERS THE 34 WAY SOUTH

HOME OF THE KNYSNA OYSTER

165,000 years of Oyster Attitude (Oystertude?) at 34 South

You could say that oysters rate amongst the foods that contributed the most to the development of the modern human brain. Certainly they feature prominently in the findings of the Mossel Bay Archaeology Project, which have shown that sea foods - and the Omega-3 fatty acids they contain - were first harvested systematically here in the Southern Cape (that is, on the 34th Parallel) 165,000 years ago.

COASTAL OR CULTIVATED WHAT THE SHUCK SHOULD I EAT?

WILD OYSTERS

Crassostrea margaritacea

They're fleshy, flashy and easily distinguished by their unevenly shaped shells.

Commercial collectors are licensed and strictly controlled - but you, as an individual, may collect up to 25 a day (if you have a valid fishing permit).

Or you can take the easy way out and eat them at 34 South - safe in the knowledge that we're scrupulously careful about ensuring that our products are as tasty and attractive as they're legal and environmentally friendly.

CULTIVATED OYSTERS

Crassostrea gigas

The Pacific, or cultivated oyster, originally from the seas of Japan, is today the preferred choice of many commercial oyster growers around the world.

They're plumper, but milder in taste, and can be identified by their uniformly shaped shells and pretty fan-like protrusions.

THESEN HARBOUR TOWN ALL IN ONE MAGICAL WATERFRONT LOCATION

Thesen Harbour Town in Knysna, at the heart of South Africa's lovely Garden Route, is the commercial part of a residential group of islands threaded with swimming and boating canals and lined by Cape Cod-style homes. Once a single island holding a sawmill that supplied the paper industry, Thesen Islands has since, to great environmental acclaim, been successfully rehabilitated and rejuvenated into a bustling residential and commercial centre right on the famous Knysna Lagoon. With expansive views to the sandstone promontories known as The Heads, which guard the mouth of the estuary opening out to the sea, and within walking distance of the Knysna CBD, lapping waters surround us. Our sunsets across the water stop visitors in their tracks. Our motto is Shop, Eat, Stay, Play . . . which means there is so much more to our Island.

Thesen History: In July 1869, Arndt Leonard Thesen, a prominent timber merchant from Norway settled in the picturesque town of Knysna where they started a timber trading company. In 1904 his son Charles Wilhelm Thesen bought Paarden Island which soon became known as Thesen Island. In the early 1980s Barlows, one of South Africa's industrial conglomerates, purchased the island and its timber treatment plant from Thesen and Company.

The Motorcycle Room

Barlows soon realized that the timber processing activities could not be continued on this island located in the midst of such a scenic and eco-sensitive lagoon. At the same time there was growing community concern about the environmental and industrial pollution caused by the factory's activities. As a result the plant's doors were finally closed. In the ensuing years the abandoned derelict buildings, machinery and waste dumps increasingly turned into an eyesore and a health hazard.

With the redevelopment, many of the historic buildings, such as the Sawtooth Building, the Parking Garage, and the Boatshed, have been adapted and modernised for re-use, retaining an authentic sense of the past. Here you will find interesting shops, restaurants, a tapas bar, hotels & spas, and a children's playground, all along the main street and around the village square. Sporting enthusiasts can visit The Motorcycle Room or see the latest in golfing gear at Scratch Golf. Apart from dining or shopping there are also various leisure activities that have Thesen Harbour Town as their base. A number of sailing excursions, whale- and dolphin-watching tours and Lagoon/Heads cruises depart from our docks.

No matter what you are looking for, you're sure to find it on Thesen Harbour Town.
