AN OVERTURE

Grande Provence Heritage Wine Estate proudly wears its 330-year history with dignity. Nestled in the beautiful Franschhoek Valley of South Africa's Western Cape, the estate's lush vines stretch across 47 acres, offering gentle vistas over the valley floor, contrasted stunningly against the rugged mountains beyond. This is the heartland of South African wine country.

The honest simplicity of Grande Provence's Cape Dutch architecture harmonizes seamlessly with modern design, bringing a refreshing presence to the magnificent Franschhoek Valley. Framing the entry road, rows of vineyards are heavy with the promise of next year's Cabernet, showcasing the elegant co-existence of old and new. Mature trees stand alongside 330-year-old oaks, while manicured hedges blend with the natural surroundings, creating a landscaped Eden.

Gracefully overseeing the setting is the 18th-century Manor House, and The Owner's Cottage offers boutique accommodation with five sumptuous rooms, including a luxurious honeymoon suite for a quiet, intimate retreat. La Provençale Villa in the Vineyards provides contemporary comfort for up to four guests.

Culinary excellence is found in local fare prepared with passion, flavored with global influences, and served with elegance and simplicity. This ethos is mirrored in the modern yet welcoming setting of the Grande Provence Restaurant. Languid views of vineyards and lavender mountains are invited in, creating a seamless flow between the outdoors and indoors. During the summer, grand old trees offer a dappled canopy for savoring the Estate's cultivars, while in winter, double doors welcome guests into a striking yet cozy fire-lit wine-tasting area.

Centuries of life well-lived and barrels of resting wine give this Estate its sincere but elegant cultivars. Producing world-class, award-winning wines under the Grande Provence label, the estate boasts many celebrated vintages.

The Jonkershuis is an elegant extension of Grande Provence. Guests enjoy private dining under chandeliers made from recycled bottles, with stunning contemporary art adorning the walls. Adjoining the main dining room is a beautifully decorated area providing a more intimate meeting space. The Jonkershuis is ideal for special dinners, small weddings, and boutique conferences, with a private kitchen catering for up to 30 guests. As with everything at Grande Provence, the décor is unique and sumptuous, yet befitting the purpose of each room.
